Important Information for International Customers

Our payment processor does not utilize an alphanumeric zip code field and requires a U.S. 5-digit numeric zip code (Province code). International customers who desire to pay with a credit card that has an address located outside the United States, may have a postal code that includes characters that do not meet the U.S. 5 digit standard. In most cases an international card holder is provided with information by the card issuer regarding how to process in the United States when they are presented with this situation. It is up to the credit card holder in conjunction with their credit card issuing bank to provide credit card information that will be compatible for processing in the U.S.
